After the Sub-Treasury

A San Francisco dispatch relates that an attempt was made by looters to raid the sub-treasury on Commercial street a few nights since and that some thirty shots were fired at the robbers.

During the fire it was reported that a gang had raided the mint and fifteen were killed. It was stated later that nothing of the kind occurred. The statement that some hundred and fifty looters had been shot in their tracks was simmered down to the killing of one man.

These stories sent out from San Francisco need considerable sifting before they will pass muster.

Making Travel Safe

The block system from Tonka to Elko will be ready for use in three or four days, and will be turned in before the end of the week. The system from Harney, six miles west of Palisade, to Tonka was recently put in operation. When completed the block system will extend over the Harney line from San Francisco to Omaha—Elko Free Press.

"The Washoe Zepher"

This is the title of a piece of statuary exhibited in Farrer's window.

It is a woman standing on a flat-iron trying to hold on her spring hat and keep her crinoline from a too pronounced derangement by the wind.

It is claimed that the figure is the work of a University student and Prof. Cohn the famous Nevada Archaeologist claims that the student was a member of a secret society organization at the University known as the "Smooth Ephes." The motto of this order is to be smooth and avoid friction in the daily affairs of life.

Thus the something iron is printed as the great seal of the organization and the emblem of the order.

Gov. Colcord however says that the statue originated in New York where the tall Flatiron building, corner of Fifth Avenue and Broadway catches all the wind and lifts the ladies skirts with an up-cast draft into the air. Whether the Governor knows these facts as an eye witness or from hearsay evidence is not stated.

Sunday's Game

Manager Beals of the Capitol baseball team received a letter from Reno cancelling the game that was to have been played tomorrow with the Carr & Elliott nine, but a telephone message later in the day announced that the Rainier team, a much stronger aggregation that was here last Sunday, would come over and cross bats with Carson players.

THE INDIAN RESERVATION

Work of Allotting Finished and Reports Will Go to Headquarters

Mr. W. Casson, who has charge of the allotment of lands to the Indians of the Walker Lake Reservation is spending a few days in this city. For the past year he has been busy allotting lands to the Indians in anticipation of throwing open the reservation for mineral purposes by the Government. His work is nearly completed and in speaking of the opening of the reservation he said:

"The work of allotment is practically finished; that is the Indians have been given their lands, but there is some detail work to finish, such as correction of records, triplicating the report and filing the same with the Government. This clerical work will be finished early next month, when the reports will be in the hands of the Washington officials.

"I am asked repeatedly when the reservation will be thrown open. The answer has been in every case the same, that the earliest possible time will be the latter part of September or the first of October. This time will be necessary owing to the fact that all of the records will have to be approved by the proper officials and the Government does everything thoroughly. The public need not worry about any one man getting in on the reservation first as the ground will be thrown open by proclamation and all will have an equal show. The few prospectors who have been camping near the ground are moving away, as they can see that it is to be an equal thing for all.

"The ground that is to be given the public to prospect is strictly mineral land, as the Indians have been allotted the agricultural and grazing lands, so it is not to be a home building proposition but strictly mining. The officials from headquarters are answering inquiries in the same tenor that I have quoted, that the ground will not be ready before the dates mentioned. It would keep one man busy answering letters regarding the matter, as thousands have been led to believe that the reservation is a mine of mineral. There will unquestionably be some valuable deposits found, but it is not all one vast mine. The rush of prospectors will develop what there is in the district and be the means of calling a great deal of attention to Western Nevada, which is a good thing for this section as well as any place where mineral has been found. The Walker Lake section will receive a wonderful overhauling when the ground passes into the hands of the army that threatens to invade it."

COMSTOCK LODGE RELIEF FUND

Misleading Statement in Governor Pardee's Account Explained

A statement over the signature of Governor Pardee appeared in a San Francisco paper, in which the Comstock was credited with sending only $100 to the relief fund. This led to the impression that a mistake had been made in the Governor's statement, whereas it was literally correct, only $100 of the total cash contributed from the Comstock having been sent to him direct, which was the amount contributed by the Mechanics' Union.

The total cash contribution to the fund by the Comstock amounted to about $2,150, of which $1,700 was expended for clothing and provisions, and including private contributions. The total amount in coin, provisions and clothing raised on the lodge for the relief fund exceeded $4,000. The Relief fund committee will publish a statement as soon as all the coin subscribed is collected, giving a detailed account of every dollar contributed to the fund and the disposition made of it.—Chronicle.

The Scrap Book

Munsey's magazine, the "Scrap Book," with its first edition by private hand a million copies. With all its long head and accuracy in figuring on what the public like Munsey discovered that he had made a mistake. He should have printed more. The edition was exhausted in three days. The name of Munsey on the magazine was enough to induce the public to buy it and the contents were sufficiently attractive, to insure the selling of the next edition.

There are no contributors to the magazine, no high sounding names of literature. The editor calls the best of the world's literary work no matter how old, or who wrote it, or where it comes from, so long as it is good to read. An obscure writer, no matter what he writes, cannot gain entrance into some of the big magazines, but if he gets his work into the most obscure paper in the United States and the Scrap Book editor sees it, it is sure to appear, republished in a most attractive way and given to the world. The contents are published on merit and they interest and delight every reader. People laughed at Munsey when he started his ten cent magazine but the public stood pat and he has put in his time starting new one. The Scrap Book, seems to be the thing they want the most. It can be had at Mulcahy's.

Restored To Health

The following will be of interest to friends of Mrs. Beatty of this city.

Chief Justice Beatty of the Supreme Court recites an interesting story with respect to the effect of the San Francisco disaster in his own household. He was in Los Angeles at the time, and hurried home deeply anxious for the condition of his wife, who had long been more or less a invalid. His surprise was great upon his return home to find that not in years had his wife's health been so good. She was up and about, active in the direction of domestic affairs, apparently stronger and better than before. Apparently the shock of the disaster had been the great benefit.

Lincoln Swain, a painter, was seriously injured by falling from the roof of a Reno building yesterday.
